SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

Protecting investors in the capital markets.

CHAIRMAN'S REVIEW

The Commission presents the report for the year ended 31st December 2017, as required by the Securities Act, Number 41 of 2016. The Securities Act further requires that the Commission should report on a number of issues not limited to but including the following:

- a. The extent of the implementation of the Commission's oversight functions and their effectiveness;
- b. Cost savings resulting from the Commission's operations;
- c. The cost to the nation for not having the Commission;
- d. The nature of the working relations with capital market operators;
- e. The actual and projected efficiencies the Commission has achieved as a result of the continuing regulatory activities; and
- f. The immediate and projected capabilities of the Commission.

The Commission has reported on these matters in relevant sections of this annual report.

May I begin by reporting that since the enactment of the 2016 Securities Act, our investor protection work at the Commission has been made a lot easier. However, in order to obtain the full benefits from this Law, Rules and Regulations that will make the Act fully operational are being formulated. These Rules and Regulations once completed will enhance the existing Rules which are a carry forward from the 1993 Securities Act.

The Commission is happy to report that following the coming into effect of the 2016 Securities Act, the Commission has made a re-application to the International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO), which once the application is successful will make our capital markets more attractive to other players such as the external fund managers. We now live in a global village and as such, the necessity to improve local Laws, Rules, and Regulations that ensured the markets were regulated in a manner acceptable to the global village is cardinal for the development of our local capital markets. Therefore, the Commission will continue to pursue the development of Laws, Rules and Regulations that will ensure our markets would compete for funds at par with other markets, especially with our country's low savings rate.

Following my report last year on the Commission's quest to develop capital markets, an indaba was held in April 2017. The Indaba, which was graced by Hon Felix Mutati, MP, who was Minister of finance at the time discussed and agreed a road map for developing a long term Capital Markets Master Plan (CMMP). The indaba was a platform to brainstorm capital markets development ideas. The CMMP will anchor ideas that the market needs to pursue for it to remain relevant. The Commission believes that it is the development of a long term plan that will help spur the development of capital markets in Zambia. The Commission will then draw its shorter term plans from these longer term developmental goals.

The Commission continues to view capital markets as an important alternative to regular savings vehicles. Therefore, improvements in the regulatory approaches to securing asset values is important. The Commission during the year continued to make improvements in the regulatory tools and approaches towards strengthening Collective Investment Scheme (CIS) assets, savings in corporate bonds, as well as the savings made through equity investments.

Although the growth in savings increased from the last reported figures of 2016, the total savings through capital markets still remains small relative to other financial sectors in Zambia. The Commission hopes that as the CMMP alluded to above is crafted, ideas in that document will help improve the performance of the capital markets sector.

The Commission also continued to engage the market as a way of sharing useful views about the development of capital markets in Zambia. These activities, meant to fulfil the Commission's mandate, are again presented below under relevant sections.

Of note looking forward are some activities that the Commission will during 2018 be hoping to achieve and/or implement. As mentioned above, it is key that capital market development follows a systematic agreed process. Therefore, in order to ensure that development follows a laid down process, the development of the CMMP will be a desirable deliverable during 2018. In line with the 10-year plan, the Commission is also working on completing the development of the 2018 – 2021 Strategic Plan. This 2018 – 2021 plan will be aligned to the 10-year development plan and may be revised in the event that the 10-year plan was at variance with the short term strategic plan being developed.

The Commission is also looking to ensuring the 2016 Securities Act is fully implemented. With the assistance of the World Bank, Rules for certain aspects of the Securities Act are being developed while the Commission is also working on updating the rest of the Rules to be in line with the new law. This will ease the delivery process of the investor protection mandate enshrined in the Securities Act.

In concluding, may I now end, on behalf of my colleagues on the Commission Board and staff, by thanking the Government through the Ministry of Finance for the continued support to the Commission. The Commission has continued to receive financial support on time which ensures that the Commission meets its obligations on time, an important ingredient for good regulatory oversight work. I wish to also thank all the capital markets stakeholders and in particular the Capital Markets Association of Zambia (CMAZ), whose continued dialogue and interaction with us has made our investor protection agenda and the capital markets development initiatives a success.

Amos Siwila
CHAIRPERSON

CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S STATEMENT

The Commission's mandate of investor protection and market development were undertaken during the year as required by the Securities Act, number 41 of 2016. In line with the requirements of the Securities Act, the Commission reports, among other things, the performance of the Commission in line with the six key areas as highlighted in the Chairman's report.

The Commission presents below operational reports that highlight activities the Commission performed in order to deliver on the requirements of the Law.

The Commission also presents independently audited financial statements which, with the "clean" audit report clearly show that the Commission adhered to the governance requirements of both the Securities Act, accounting standards, and other requirements. The Commission further continues to demonstrate that the financial resources of the Commission are continually managed in a prudent manner having in mind the Commission's need to use resources in its primary function of investor protection and attending to market development goals.

The Commission presents below operational reports that highlight activities the Commission performed in order to deliver on the requirements of the Law. The Commission also presents independently audited financial statements which, with the "clean" audit report clearly show that the Commission adhered to the governance requirements of both the Securities Act, accounting standards, and other requirements. The Commission further continues to demonstrate that the financial resources of the Commission are continually managed in a prudent manner having in mind the Commission's need to use resources in its primary function of investor protection and attending to market development goals. Although the Commission continues to operate below the minimum required resource needs, those regulatory activities that add value to the protection of investors and the country's savings were undertaken. This is more so on the Commission's understanding that resources should be applied to avoid contagion effects that a failure of capital markets could have on the larger financial sector. During the year, the Commission ensured that the K475million in CISs, the K929 million in corporate bonds, and the over K63 Billion invested via the Lusaka Securities Exchange Plc (LuSE) was protected as losing these funds would result in loss of confidence in the financial services sector in Zambia and loss of livelihood for the saving public, among other negative effects.

The Zambian capital markets

continued to contribute to the overall financial sector objectives of capital formation by encouraging savings and also helped protect investors and in the process avoided the social costs that could result from the failure by retirement funds and individual investors to access their life savings in CISs, corporate bonds, and securities.

The Commission now reports below the performance of the equity, corporate debt, and Collective Investment schemes (CIS) segments of the capital markets sector. These areas under the supervision of the Commission all contributed to the overall well-being of the financial system in Zambia.

Performance of the equities market

The Capital markets in Zambia has three licensed exchanges. The performance of the market report is however restricted to the Lusaka Securities Exchange Plc (LuSE), which is the only active regulated market. The Bonds and Derivatives Exchange (BaDEX) and Pan African Exchange ("PANEX") were not active during the review period.

Equity market

The Lusaka Securities Exchange (LuSE) All Share Index (LASI) closed the year at 5,311.54 points indicating a 27 % increase compared to the preceding period that closed at 4,195.95 points. The increase in the LASI was mainly due to positive price changes in share prices notably in ZANACO (234%), African Explosives Zambia Limited (170%), Copperbelt Energy Corporation (66%), Standard Chartered Bank Zambia (59%) and Cavmont Capital Holdings Zambia Limited (33%). These movements were primarily driven by improved stability in economic variables and a more positive economic outlook.

We present below the salient indicators of the performance of the market during the year under review:

Market Capitalisation

The market capitalization, which is the market value of securities of all listed companies, increased from K57,668 million (including Shoprite) as at 31st December 2016 to K62,350 million as at 31st December 2017, representing an 8% increase. This increase in the market capitalisation was due to an increase in the share prices of some of the listed entities. The market capitalization (excluding Shoprite) closed at K 28,111 million as at 31st December 2017 compared to K 23,429 million at 31st December 2016 representing a 20% increase.

In US$ terms, the market capitalization of the LuSE including Shoprite increased by 7% from US$ 5,813 million at 31st December 2016 to US$ 6,223 million as at 31st December 2017. The market capitalization excluding Shoprite was US$2,805 million at 31st December 2017 compared to US$ 2,362 million as at 31st December 2016 a 19% rise.

Market Capitalisation

The turnover increased by 332% from K852 million in 2016 to K1,198 million in 2017. This increase is mainly attributed to Zanaco Bank Plc which recorded 54% of the total turnover in 2017.

Volume of shares and number of trades

The volume of shares and number of trades increased by 117% and 49% in 2017 respectively. The increase in the volume was mainly due to Zanaco Bank Plc which contributed 80% of the volume of shares.

Number of Listed and Quoted Companies

There was an increase in the number of quoted companies from 12 in 2016 to 13 in 2017 after the registration with the Commission of CEC Africa Investments Limited shares which then became quoted on the LuSE. There was however, no change in the number of listed companies during the period under review.

Turnover to Market Cap Ratio

The increase in the turnover to market capitalisation ratio was by 261% from 1.18 recorded in 2016 to 4.26 for 2017. The change is mainly attributed to the Zanaco Bank Plc corporate action which contributed 77% to the total turnover of the LuSE.

Trading Turnover (Government Debt Securities)

The trading turnover of government bonds increased by 169% from K4,450 million in 2016 to K11,959 million in 2017. The increase in the value of traded debt securities is attributed to the increase by 211% in the number of trades from 428 trades in 2016 to 1,331 trades in 2017.

Corporate Bonds

The total value of outstanding debt securities registered with the Commission as at 31st December 2017 was K929 million and the total compared to K1,165 million outstanding at 31st December 2016. The reduction is due to some of the bonds maturing during 2017.

Collective Investment Schemes (CISs)

The number of authorised fund managers increased from 7 in 2016 to 9 in 2017 after two new fund managers were authorised in 2017. The value of funds under management by the authorised managers increased by 18.7% from K363,618,982 at the end of December 2016 to K431,571,408. Although there was a growth in the number of fund managers, this increase in funds under management is mainly due to greater participation in the sector by investors, which is a good development as the CIS funds are small compared to other markets in the region. Therefore, the continued growth of the industry is a reassuring sign that the sector will continue to provide an alternative savings vehicle for small investors and pension funds as well.

Financial Performance of the Commission

In order to safe guard savings made through the capital markets, government continues to support the Commission in meeting operational costs. The Commission also continues to support government efforts by generating revenues that support budget implementation. However, as the Commission's mandate is largely investor protection, financial performance indicators are mainly on account of the Commission needing to prudently apply the limited resources in meeting its mandated objectives. We report in other sections on some of the non-financial activities that the SEC is required to do as part of its mandate.

In the period ending 31st December 2017, the Commission recorded an operating deficit of K1,301,332 (2016 – surplus K2,282,100) from a combined income of K20,299,377 against total operating costs of K21,600,709. The deficit in the year is mainly attributed to the subdued market activities arising from high money market rates in 2016 through to 2017. The capital markets ability to transfer savings into productive sectors, which drives the Commission's ability to earn fees, is affected by high money market rates as corporates are unable to raise funds due to expensive funds.

Accumulated Fund

The Commission's accumulated fund position at 31st December 2017 stood at K10,480,935 in contrast to K11,782,267 recorded at 31st December 2016. The diagram below shows that since 2012, the Commission has managed to contain costs and thus improve on its net assets position. The net assets position shows that the commission has for the last five years managed to keep its costs within its purse limits.

Net Assets

Income Earned

During the year ended 31st December 2017, the Commission internally generated 52% of its income while GRZ grant support accounted for 48%. This is on the backdrop of subdued market activities as explained above.

Commission Expenses

The Commission being a services organization has human capital as its main asset. Therefore, the Commission's major expense continues to be employee costs, a significant and key component of our regulatory activities and therefore the key cost driver. On a comparative basis, for the period to 31st December 2017, the Commission's total staff costs were 54% (2016 – 52.4%) of its total expenditure. Being a service-oriented organization that also champions investor awareness and investor protection, labor, awareness, and governance costs continues to be the Commission's major cost elements.

The Commission also strives to uphold good corporate governance by ensuring that the SEC had a well-functioning Board supported by effective Board committees. In order to assist the Board make informed licensing, authorization, and registration decisions among others, the Board, as provided for in the Securities Act, has constituted a number of committees of the Board, which have a good representation of various required professions.

Chief Executive's Statement

Staff Complement

The Commission's staff complement during the review period remained at 18 compared to an approved structure of 43 (2015 – 2018). Capacity building continued to be at the core of the Commission's objectives. The full list of employees during the period under review is provided in Appendix I while the approved structure is highlighted on next page:

Training and Workshops

Multi-national and Regional Conferences and Summits Attended by Commission Staff

The Commission has a deliberate policy to ensure staff are aware of the developments in this ever-changing capital markets environment. The country and the Commission are also signatories to regional bodies such as SADC, which among other things require membership and attendance at meetings such as those of the Committee on Insurance, Securities

Chief Executive's Statement

Strategic Plan Overview

The 2015 – 2018 strategic plan, which ends in March 2018 identified five (5) key objectives. These objectives include the following:

Objective One

“Develop and deploy strengthened institutional capacity.”

This objective has been carried from the 2012-2015 Strategic Plan as we believe that this is the backbone of the Commission performing better as a regulator.

Objective Two

“Establish and maintain an effective and efficient regulatory environment for Capital Market.”

This is to provide the investors and the market in general with comfort that there is an effective and efficient regulatory and legal system protecting their interests.

Objective Three

“Encourage and facilitate the development and diversification of Capital Market products and financial instruments.”

This is in a bid to grow the Zambian Capital Market and thus offer a wider selection of investment instruments.

Objective Four

“Optimise market transaction costs.”

In general, this will ensure that the Capital Market contributed to the reduction in the cost of doing business in Zambia.

Objective Five

“Enhance investor protection within the Zambian Capital Market.”

This is one of the core mandates of the Commission, and cannot be overemphasized. A satisfied investor leads to increased confidence in the Zambian capital market.

The above identified objectives are expected to help the Commission achieve its goal to increase the number of investors and issuers through awareness and building market confidence. The Commission plans to see a market where there is increased liquidity achieved through having a trusted market, increased number of listed entities as well as participation on the market by an increased number of investors.

Conclusion

The Commission sees potential in the growth of capital markets. With the Commission's awareness programs, which have been extended to key stakeholders including parliamentarians, Schools through the “Schools challenge”, and the regular Chairman's breakfast meetings, the Commission sees growth prospects in both the use of the market to fund projects as well as the use of the equity and CIS savings and investment options by the public.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Corporate governance is a key element by which corporate entities are managed and supervised. The Commission, as the capital markets regulator in Zambia, plays a critical role in ensuring that companies comply with aspects of governance. For instance, the Commission has a say in the appointment of the Directors and senior management of securities exchanges and clearing and settlement agencies to ensure that the office holders are not only fit and proper but also adhere to the governance principles of transparency, responsibility, accountability and fairness.

The Commission takes corporate governance very seriously and not only applies it externally to the regulated entities but also applies the corporate governance principles to the Commission as a statutory body.

Board Composition

Section 8(2) and (3) of the Securities Act, No. 41 of 2016 specifies the composition of the Commission Board as consisting representatives of the following organisations:

- » Zambia Chamber of Commerce and Industry;

» the Commission's Chief Executive Officer as ex-officio Member.

The Minister appoints the non-executive Members of the Commission Board from a nomination made by the respective organisation. In addition, section 8(5) of the Act requires the Minister to ensure that at least fifty percent of each gender is nominated and appointed to the Commission Board, unless it is not practicable to do so. However, the Act empowers the Members to elect, from amongst their number, a Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson of the Board.

Regulatory and Operational Efficiency

Section 11(3) of the First Schedule to the Securities Act, No. 41 of 2016 requires the Commission to include, in its Annual Report, information relating to its regulatory and operational efficiency. In particular, section 11(3) provides as follows:

“(3) The report to be submitted in accordance with subsection (1), shall include the following:

- (a) the extent to which the Commission has fully implemented its regulatory oversight functions as provided under this Act and in its rules and the effectiveness of the operation of such regulatory oversight function;
- (b) the actual and projected cost savings to the Government, if any, resulting from operations of

- the Commission;
- (c) the actual and projected costs which the Commission and the public would have incurred if the Commission had not undertaken regulatory responsibility for certain areas under the Commission’s jurisdiction;
- (d) the nature of the working relationship between the securities exchanges, clearing and settlement facilities and the Commission;
- (e) an assessment of the actual and projected efficiencies the Commission has achieved or expects to be achieved as a result of the continuing regulatory activities of the Commission; and
- (f) the immediate and projected capabilities of the Commission.”

The Commission reports on each of the six areas as follows:

Extent of implementation of the Commission’s oversight function and their effectiveness

The Board’s oversight role in governance is highlighted in section 8 of the Securities Act, No. 41 of 2016 which provides as follows:

8. (1) There is constituted the Board of the Commission which shall be responsible for the implementation of this Act and shall, subject to this Act—

- (a) exercise the functions of the Commission as provided in this Act;
- (b) oversee the administrative affairs of the Commission by putting in place effective, efficient and transparent systems of corporate governance and, in doing so, shall—
 - (i) ensure sound financial management structures and processes, including financial, risk management and internal audit controls;
 - (ii) provide strategic direction to the Commission and approve the annual work plan and activity programmes of the Commission as recommended by the Chief Executive Officer;
 - (iii) ensure that the Commission builds sufficient human resource, technical and scientific capacity within the Commission;

- (iv) determine the structure and staffing levels of the Commission;
- (v) approve the budget estimates of the Commission and ensure that the Commission receives adequate funding for its operations;
- (vi) ensure the prevention of irregular expenditure, fruitless and wasteful expenditure, losses resulting from criminal conduct and expenditure not complying with the operational and financial policies of the Commission;
- (vii) ensure that the members of the Commission, members of committees and officers act in a manner consistent with the objectives and functions of the Commission, the Commission’s corporate governance charter and this Act; and
- (viii) ensure that officers perform their functions efficiently and effectively; and
- (c) do every act or thing that is required to be done by the Board as specified in this Act.”

In addition to the requirements of section 8 of the Act, the Commission's Board Charter provides guidance to the Board Members in their conduct of Board business to ensure that there is a right balance between the oversight role of the Board and the managerial function of the Commission Management.

To achieve the objectives of the Act, the Commission has established and does apply a Code of Conduct to the Commission staff which prescribes the conduct and behaviour of the staff especially with regard to conflict of interest issues. Additionally, the Commission requires all senior management staff to be members of the Institute of Directors of Zambia as a measure to enhance their corporate governance knowledge and expertise.

Both the Code of Ethics and the Board Charter have enshrined provisions and procedures on the declaration of interest and declaration of gifts from any person or entity, whether regulated by the Commission or not. Further, both documents specify the procedures to be taken whenever an employee or a Board Member would like to participate in the capital markets as a player, which guard against trading on non-public, price-sensitive information.

Cost Savings resulting from the Commission's Operations

One of the Commission's functions highlighted under section 8(b) of the Securities Act include the approval of the Commission's budget estimates to ensure sound financial management structures and processes, including financial, risk management and internal audit controls. The Commission does not spend outside the approved budgeted and prudently manages its resources to achieve its strategic objectives. In this vein, the Commission does not engage in fruitless or wasteful expenditure. In addition, the Commission pays off all employee liabilities on time whenever they become due.

Further, the Commission is prudent in ensuring that it does not incur any losses as a result of criminal conduct from the Commission's employees but that the expenditure should comply with the Commission's Finance and Accounting Policy which prescribes how finances should be handled.

Cost to the Nation for not having the Commission

The Commission's principal mandate is investor protection. It does so by ensuring the prompt and full disclosure of non-public price-sensitive information by a company's directors to the general public on the basis of which the investor will make an informed decision. A number of institutional and retail investors have invested more than six billion United States Dollars in the Zambian capital markets. Therefore, if the Commission is not in place or does not undertake its regulatory mandate around ZMW64 billion in savings could be lost and savings mobilization could be affected.

Most of the institutional investors are pension funds which invest the excess contributions from employees into several investment portfolios including the capital markets. Without regulation, the investment of the pension funds would be susceptible to fraud and other criminal activities. The Commission is there to ensure that it protects the interests of investors in the capital markets.

Actual and Projected efficiencies the Commission has achieved as a result of the continuing regulatory activities

The Commission has a dual mandate of market supervision and market development. The last few years have seen the Commission focussing on the development of the market due to the nascent stage of the capital market's development in Zambia. However, the Commission has been undergoing the process of weaning the capital market operators and insisting on compliance with regulatory requirements.

In light of this, the Commission has enhanced enforcement activities which has resulted in an increase in compliance.

As a result of increased regulatory compliance by capital market operators, the Commission has noted an increase in market confidence which has translated into increased capital mobilisation especially in Collective Investment Schemes (CISs) and Corporate Bonds.

Nature of the working relations with Capital Market Operators

The Commission has a cordial working relationship with capital market operators. It operates an open-door policy where capital market operators are able to consult with and meet with the Commission at short notice on various regulatory issues. The Commission also holds regular meetings with capital market operators in order to learn from the market how the Commission could assist the market in achieving its goals and objectives and thereby grow the capital market industry.

In addition, the Commission holds other regular stakeholder meetings including the quarterly Chairman's breakfast meeting with the market. Further, the Chief Executive Officer also conducts media briefs on a quarterly basis to inform the market on the latest developments in the capital markets.

Immediate and Projected capabilities of the Commission

The Commission has highlighted capacity building as one of the strategic goals of the Commission under the current Strategic Plan. Thus, it has made training of staff a priority to ensure that the Commission is always in tune with current developments in the capital markets space. Therefore, the Commission has endorsed the investment qualification offered by the Chartered Institute of Securities and Investments (CISI), which is a United Kingdom chartered qualification, as a foundational training for all Commission staff as well as for the Board Members.

Through this training and others offered by the Toronto Center and the International Organisation for Securities Commissions (IOSCO), the Commission Board and staff have been able to enhance their understanding of the industry.

Audit Function

The Commission has outsourced the internal audit function which is provided by MPH Chartered Accountants. The internal audit function is meant to ensure that internal controls are put in place and effectively used to manage risk in the Commission. MPH Chartered Accountants undertakes an audit of several control systems for the Commission. As an independent function from Management, the internal auditors report directly to the Board and therefore provide an independent assurance of risk management of the Commission to the Board.

The external auditors are appointed by the Commission Board subject to approval by the Minister responsible for finance. The external auditors perform an annual audit and present a report to the Board stating the level of compliance by the Commission to the law, regulations and policies. The external auditors are Grant Thornton Chartered Accountants.

The audit function is one of the most important tools the Commission uses in its oversight role over the Commission. Overall, the Commission Board has an interest to ensure that it is transparent, responsible, accountable and fair in all its dealings with all types of stakeholders. The Board has delegated, to the Risk and Audit Committee its role of ensuring that the Commission has put in place sound financial management structures and processes, including financial, risk management and internal audit controls.

Commission Secretary

The Director – Enforcement and Legal Services is the Board-appointed Secretary to the Commission Board and performs the secretarial functions as required under the Securities Act. Section 17 of the Securities Act empowers the Board to appoint a Secretary to the Board on such terms and conditions as the Board may determine. The Commission Secretary is in charge of the corporate secretarial affairs of the Commission, under the general supervision of the Chief Executive Officer and may also perform other functions as directed by the Board.

Board Performance Self-evaluation

The Board is required to under an annual review of the effectiveness of the Board, its Committees, and its individual Board Members. A self-assessment was done indicating a general improvement in all areas of Board activity as compared to the last assessment conducted for 2016. Specifically, the Board’s overall performance had been shown to have improved from 78% in 2016 (or 70.86% excluding the assessment of Recording/Minute Taking) to 86.32% under the 2017 assessment period.

- c) Governance/Partnership Alignment;
- d) Board Organisation;
- e) Administration and Staff Support;
- f) Time and Location of Meetings;
- g) Recording/Minute Taking; and
- h) Membership.

The Board performance self-evaluation was done for eight major areas as follows:

- a) Board Activity;
- b) Mission and Purpose;

The assessment criteria relating to Recording or Minute Taking was not specifically assessed during the 2016 Assessment exercise and the following comparative analysis assumes that the criteria is rated at 0%. The overall Board performance for 2016 will, on that assumption, therefore reduce to 70.86% as shown in the following table:

Table 2: Comparative of Board Overall Performance

On average, the assessment indicated that there had been improvement in all areas of Board activity from the last assessment with the exception of Administration and Staff Support which had reduced from 98% to 93%. The Board's overall performance had also improved from 78% in 2016 (or 70.86% if the assessment of Recording/Minute Taking is excluded) to 86.32% under the 2017 assessment period.

OPERATIONAL ACTIVITIES

The Securities Act, No. 41 of 2016 is the principal Act for the regulation of the Zambian securities market. The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has as a mandate to protect investors and ensure that the markets are free, fair and transparent. The Commission therefore adopts a supervision strategy for capital market players or intermediaries that ensures the protection of the investing public.

The Commission has a dual mandate of investor protection and market supervision. Investor protection is done through various ways including the registration of securities, the licensing and authorisation of capital market operators and the supervision of capital market operators to ensure that they are in compliance with the requirements of the law. The role of market supervision and market development is performed by the Directorate of Market Supervision and Development (“DMSD”).

Market Supervision

The Commission is responsible for the supervision of capital markets operators. A key objective is to ensure capital markets operators comply with the Securities Act and its subsidiary legislation, thus ensuring a secure, fair and orderly investment environment that enhances investor and public safeguards and promotes an orderly development of the industry.

Zambia’s Capital Market Players

The players that operate in Zambia’s Capital Market industry consist of brokers/dealers, investment advisers, securities exchanges, central securities depositories, issuers, fund managers, credit rating agencies, investment banks, and transfer agents, among others. The full list of players and their contact details is provided in Appendices II and III.

Licensing

Licensing, being at the forefront, sets high regulatory standards at the very outset to fulfil the Commission’s mandate which is designed to ensure investor protection and support the operation of a free, orderly, fair, secure and properly functioning Securities Market. Licensing acts as the entry point into the Securities Market by capital markets operators, therefore the Commission strives to strike the right balance between its business-friendly approach and complying with international regulatory standards.

In line with its endeavour to align its processes to international best practices and to embrace modern regulatory approaches, the Commission constantly ensures that these practices are embedded into its operations at the licensing stage. As a result, this provides for a more cohesive and transparent framework guiding further improvements in the Commission’s regulatory approach.

The licensing procedure is clearly defined in the Securities Act and rules, regulations, directives and guidance notes issued by the Commission. At Licensing, the Commission has in place a transparent and well-established set of procedures leading to the issue of a licence or the rejection thereof.

The regulatory power of the Commission is anchored upon four pillars as follows:

- (a) Any person dealing or advising on securities must be licensed by the Commission;
- (b) Any securities market must be authorised and licensed as a securities exchange by the Commission;
- (c) All securities of a public company which are publicly traded must be registered by the Commission; and
- (d) Collective Investment Schemes (CISs) must be authorized by the Commission.

In assessing applications, the Commission is required to conduct a number of assessments - including the fit and proper test of applicants, financial soundness of the applicants, lawfulness and moral standards of the proposed activity and any other relevant issues. Where applications may cause harm to the good repute of the jurisdiction, such applications are recommended for rejection.

Licences issued for the year 2017

The Zambian Capital Markets is steadily continuing to gain momentum and systemic importance based on the number of applications for licences received in 2017. In 2017, the Commission continued with its role of ensuring that only fit and proper persons were allowed to conduct securities business and offer regulated services to the investing public.

For the year ending 31st December 2017, the Commission had issued 243 licenses. The full list of licensees as at the year-end is provided in Appendix II.

A breakdown of the issuances by license type is provided below:

License Type	Number of licenses 9 months ended 31 st December 2016	Number of licenses for the year ended 31 st December 2017
Dealer's License	28	35
Dealer's Representative License	109	166
Investment Advisor's License	11	11
Investment Advisor's Representative License	23	28
Securities Exchange License	3	3
Total	174	243

Compliance

Compliance entails ensuring that persons authorised or licensed to operate in the Zambian capital markets, including listed and quoted businesses; collective investment schemes (CISs); exchanges; brokers; investment advisers; representatives; custodians; trustees; etc. are compliant at all times in meeting the continuing obligations as set out in the Securities Act. As part of its onsite inspections, the Market Supervision Team reviews and assesses the licensed persons' work procedures & their compliance to the Act, Rules and Directives. Issuers, CISs and investment companies are also specifically monitored for purposes of compliance with continuing obligations. Focus is also given to compliance with the Commission's Anti-Money Laundering & Counter-Terrorism Financing Directives and other related laws. The Commission works closely with the Financial Intelligence Centre in coordinating all Anti-Money Laundering & Counter-Terrorism Financing related matters.

Capital markets players are required to submit monthly, quarterly and annual returns. Taking the example of CISs, fund managers are required to submit monthly and quarterly returns, which the Commission uses to monitor the funds' investments and also help assess safety of the funds. The CIS industry has eight (8) fund managers who manage about 33 sub funds. A CIS that is established under trust is required to appoint a trustee whilst all other types of CISs are allowed to appoint a custodian. The prevailing scenario is that all CISs operating in Zambia have contracted custodial services thereby securing the assets of the investors at one of the two authorised custodians. In addition, the Commission collates data that is useful for assessing the growth or otherwise of the CIS market.

Operational Activities

As at 31st December 2017, the funds held under management were distributed as indicated in the table below:

Inspections

In 2017, the Commission carried out thematic inspections targeting particular aspects of the market in an attempt to have a more detailed review of their operations. The following were the thematic inspections conducted:

1. Review of Anti-Money Laundering/ Countering the Financing of Terrorism (“AML/CFT”) for Capital Market Players;
2. Review of Brokers’ compliance with SEC regulations and Lusaka Securities Exchange trading rules; and

3. Review of compliance with listing requirements by issuers.

Surveillance

Market surveillance continues to be one of the key functions undertaken by the Commission. It entails monitoring trade operations by using daily analysis of market trades, writing periodic reports, investigating anomalies and other activities. The goal is to ensure compliance by the capital markets operators to the Commission rules and regulations, in order to regulate the market and provide the necessary protection to investors. As part of surveillance, the Commission attended, in an observer capacity, Annual General Meetings (AGMs) of listed and registered entities. The following were some of the items noted:

- Attendance
Most of the AGMs held in the period under review were well attended and compliant in terms of holding the meetings within the stipulated time.

- Investor Participation
Investors generally participated in the deliberations of the meetings and almost all of the issues raised by investors during the AGMs were adequately responded to by most companies. Some investors also seemed well involved in the monitoring of the performance of the companies in which they had invested.

Complaints Handling

The Commission continued to receive complaints from members of the public in relation to their investments in securities. During the review period, the Commission received sixteen (16) complaints.

The complaints related to various aspects of challenges faced by some investors including delays in payment of dividends, claims for funds not being received after sale of shares, tipoffs on use of misleading information by some capital markets operators etc. Seven (7) of these complaints have been closed while the rest are still being investigated.

Market Development

In accordance with the Securities Act No.41 of 2016, the Commission, under its Market Development role, is mandated to undertake the following functions:

- i. Encourage the development of securities and securities exchanges and the increased use of such exchanges;
- ii. Provide, promote or otherwise support financial education, awareness and confidence with regard to financial products, institutions and services; and
- iii. Prescribe certification standards and accreditation for licensees.

In the period under review, Market development activities included engagement of market participants through the Annual Securities Wings and Intermediaries Workshop; the hosting of the Capital Markets Indaba held in April 2017; launch of the Financial Inclusion Strategy; engagement of the Curriculum Development Centre for the development of supplementary Financial Education material on capital markets. In addition, the Commission participated in commemorations that included the Financial Literacy Week; the World Savings Day and the inaugural World Investor Week. A TV 13 weeks drama series was also produced and aired alongside press media advertising all aimed at investor awareness and sensitization. The detailed report on these and other activities are highlighted hereunder.

Zambia's Capital Markets Indaba

Hon. Minister of Finance Mr. Felix Mutati MP, with delegates of the Capital Markets Indaba - 2nd - 5th April 2017

The SEC in partnership with the Financial Sector Deepening (FSD) Africa (a DFID funded project) and the Capital Markets Association of Zambia (CMAZ) hosted the capital markets Indaba. The Indaba whose theme was “Repositioning the Zambian Capital Markets as an Enabler to Achieving Sustainable and Significant Economic Growth” was successfully held from 3rd – 5th April 2017. The indaba was an initial step towards the development of a Capital Markets Master Plan that would guide the direction of capital market development in the short, medium and long term.

Graced by the Honourable Minister of Finance, Mr Felix Mutati, MP and flanked by high ranking ministerial officials, the Indaba was met with serious deep thinking about the current inhibitors to development of the Zambian capital markets. Foreign capital markets experts provided insights on areas of focus that would develop the markets as the sessions were deliberated together with government officials and local captains of industry.

Launch of the National Financial Sector Development Policy & National Financial Inclusion Strategy

The Securities and Exchange Commission through the leadership of the Ministry of Finance (MoF) and in collaboration with the Bank of Zambia (BoZ); the Pensions and Insurance Authority (PIA); the Rural Finance Expansion Programme (RUFEP); and the Competition and Consumer Protection Commission (CCPC) took part in the organisation and launch of two national financial sector documents namely; the National Financial Sector Development Policy (NFSDP); and the National Financial Inclusion Strategy (NFIS) which were launched by the Minister of Finance, Honourable Felix C. Mutati, MP on 8th November 2017 at Radisson Blu Hotel.

The objective of the National Financial Sector Development Policy is to have a well-developed and inclusive financial system that supports efficient resource mobilization and investment for sustainable economic development while the National Financial Inclusion Strategy aims to provide a roadmap to further accelerate financial inclusion in Zambia in line with the vision of the NFIS which is 'to have universal access to and usage of a broad range of quality and affordable financial products and services'.

Financial Literacy Week Launch

The 2017 Financial Literacy Week (FLW) was spearheaded by all the 3 financial regulators, that is, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Bank of Zambia (BoZ) and the Pensions and Insurance Authority (PIA) under the coordination of the Bankers Association of Zambia (BAZ). The official launch of the FLW was on 28th March at Mulungushi International Conference Centre where the Honourable Minister of Finance Felix Mutati officiated the event.

The Financial Literacy Week is an annual awareness campaign which is commemorated to educate and sensitize the general public about various topics on financial education. The theme for 2017 was "Know and Plan your Finances to Live a Better Life". This launch was a kick-off for provincial launches to take place during the week of commemoration of which the Commission was responsible for sensitising the Southern Province.

providing a platform for them to demonstrate their understanding of capital markets investments and the financial growth prospects that they offer.

Enforcement and Legal Services

The Commission through the Directorate of Enforcement and Legal Services (“DELS”) is responsible for enforcing the Securities Act (“the Act”) and the Rules made thereunder. It is responsible, inter alia, for identifying and recommending law reform and development in the securities sector, ensuring legal and regulatory compliance, providing corporate legal and secretarial services. DELS also provides legal advisory services and undertakes litigation, on behalf of the Commission, in all courts and administrative Tribunals.

Legislative developments

The new Securities Act, No. 41 of 2016, empowers the Commission to enact subsidiary legislation to operationalise the Securities Act through Statutory Instruments with respect to any matter that the Act requires or permits the Commission to enact. The Commission is in the process of revising and developing a number of Statutory Instruments including revising the fees and levies that capital market participants are mandated by law to pay to the Commission so as to enable capital raises and reduce the cost of doing business.

The Securities Act also introduced

Enforcement actions taken

One of the key improvements in the current legal framework is the introduction of administrative sanctions which have enhanced the Commission’s enforcement mandate by making it easier to deal with defaulting capital market operators. Previously, a capital market operator who breached any provision of the Securities Act or the Rules made thereunder would only be dealt with through the criminal process of prosecution and the prosecution team would need to secure a conviction before any action could be taken against the defaulting capital market investigatory powers under section 161 of the Act. The Commission’s authority to investigate suspected cases of securities law violations under this Act is generally unrestricted. The purpose of carrying out an investigation is to adequately develop a factual basis for a determination as to whether particular activities come within the ambit of the Commission’s regulatory authority. Where the Commission has reasonable cause to believe that a person has breached the provisions of the Securities Act, the Commission carries out investigations before deciding on the course of action to take against any person who would operator.

The Securities Act provides the Commission with a wide range of enforcement powers to take against defaulting capital market operators who breach any of the provisions that the Commission enforces. These include investigations, criminal and civil litigation as well the administrative sanctions earlier alluded to. The Commission has recourse to these options when there are grounds and circumstances meriting the specific action. Not only do the various enforcement actions have breached the provisions of the Act.

During the period under review, the Commission appointed the first Investigations Officer in the Commission’s history. From the date his appointment, the Investigations Officer has conducted a number of investigations arising from a barrage of complaints from the capital market operators, and in some instances at the Commission’s own motion where there was reasonable cause to believe that the provisions of the Securities Act had been breached.

provide relief by those harmed by a securities law violation, but, more important, the existence of enforcement actions is a powerful incentive for individuals and companies to comply with the securities laws.

The Commission has witnessed a reduction in the number of violations of the Securities laws by individuals and companies following the Commission’s initiative to take enforcement action against erring market players.

For instance, the number of market players submitting their annual reports, timely and in accordance with the securities laws, has drastically increased. The enforcement actions taken ranged from the imposition of administrative fines to the making of private censures against defaulting capital market operators for the regulatory breaches.

It must be noted that, during the period under consideration, the Commission was defending a judicial review matter in which one of the capital market participants was challenging its regulatory decision and the matter was still ongoing as at the date of this report. In addition, the Commission undertook a number of administrative actions against licensees and other persons in default to ensure that the provisions of the Securities Act were complied with.

Regulatory compliance

The DELS ensures that as a financial services regulator, the Commission complies with legal and regulatory requirements that facilitate effectiveness in capital markets regulation. This includes compliance with international regulatory requirements and best practices of the International Organisation of Securities

Commissions (IOSCO), the Eastern and Southern African Anti-Money Laundering Group (ESAAMLG), the Southern African Development Community (SADC) Committee on Insurance, Securities and Non-bank Administrators (CISNA), the Africa and Middle Eastern Securities Regulatory Committee of IOSCO (AMERC) and other regional and international bodies.

The DELS is also the contact point for liaison with foreign capital market regulators on information sharing and exchange of information.

IOSCO MMOU Compliance

With the enactment of the Securities Act No. 41 of 2016, the Commission qualified to apply to be a signatory to the International Organisation of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) Multilateral Memorandum of Understanding (MMoU) on information sharing and international co-operation. A securities regulator qualifies to be a signatory if the securities law it administers enables it to collect and share information for purposes of enforcement, by other securities regulators, of securities violations.

During the period under review, the Commission successfully submitted its application to be a signatory to the MMoU and was, at the date of the report, awaiting feedback from IOSCO on the status of its application.

Being a signatory to the IOSCO MMoU is a critical aspect of the Commission's compliance with its international obligations as the MMoU is a vital instrument both to ensure effective global regulation and to preserve and strengthen securities markets.

Not being a signatory to the IOSCO MMoU, therefore, has a number of implications including unattractiveness of a country as an investment destination. Foreign investors are less keen on investing in a country that is not a signatory to the IOSCO MMoU because their investments are not as protected as when the country is a signatory and the Securities regulator is able to exchange and share information for regulatory purposes.

Market Transactions

In order to ensure there was control on the entities that obtained funds from the public, the Commission is mandated to register securities before they are offered to the public. The Commission also approves mergers or acquisitions involving entities whose securities are registered with the Commission. During the financial year ending 31st December 2017, the Commission through the Market Transactions division received and approved a number of applications from companies including those relating to the registration of securities, mergers and acquisitions. Waivers from certain Securities Act obligations as enshrined in the Act, and other miscellaneous market activities were also considered.

The table below shows the companies, type and number of securities that were approved during the period under review:

STATEMENT OF COMMISSION RESPONSIBILITIES

The Securities Act, 1993 requires the commissioners to prepare financial statements for each financial year which give a true and fair view of the financial position of Securities and Exchange Commission and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the period then ended. In preparing such financial statements, the commissioners are responsible for

- » designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error;
- » selecting appropriate accounting policies and applying them consistently;
- » making judgements and accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances; and
- » preparing the financial statements in accordance with the applicable financial reporting framework, and on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the Commission will continue in operation.

The commissioners are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the Commission and enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Securities Act, 1993. They are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the Commission and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

The commissioners confirm that in their opinion

- a. the financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of Securities and Exchange Commission as of 31 December 2017, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the period then ended;
- b. at the date of this statement there are reasonable grounds to believe that the Commission will be able to pay its debts as and when these fall due; and
- c. the financial statements are drawn up in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

This statement is made in accordance with a resolution of the commissioners.

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR TO THE MEMBERS OF SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

We have audited the financial statements of Securities and Exchange Commission which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2017, and the statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity and statement of cash flows for the period then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the Commission's financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Commission as at 31 December 2017, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the period then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Commission in accordance with the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Zambia, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and in the manner required by the Securities Act 1993 Cap 354 of the Laws of Zambia and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Commission's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Commission or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Commission's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- » Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- » Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Commission's internal control.

- » Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- » Conclude on appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Commission's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements, or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Commission to cease to continue as a going concern.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements

In our opinion, the financial statements of Securities and Exchange Commission as at 31 December 2017 have been properly prepared in accordance with the Securities Act, 1993 Cap 354 of the Laws of Zambia and the accounting and other records and registers have been properly kept in accordance with the Acts.

The Commission is a body corporate that came into existence by an Act of Parliament, the Securities Act No. 38 of 1993, with the objective of inter-alia regulating and developing the securities market in Zambia.

2. Basis of preparing the financial statements - going concern basis

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that the Commission will continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future.

The validity of this assumption depends on the Commission being able to generate sufficient funds from its future activities to meet its working capital requirements and the Government of the Republic of Zambia increasing its grants to the Commission.

If the Commission was unable to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future, adjustments would have to be made to reduce the reporting date values of assets to their recoverable amounts, to provide for further liabilities that might arise and to reclassify equipment and motor vehicles and long term liabilities as current assets and liabilities.

The Commissioners are of the opinion that it is appropriate for the financial statements to be prepared on a going concern basis.

3. Principal accounting policies

The principal accounting policies applied by the Commission in the preparation of the financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

a. Basis of preparation

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS). The financial statements are presented in accordance with IAS 1 “Preparation of financial statements” (Revised 2007). The Commission has elected to present the “Statement of Comprehensive income” in one statement namely the “Statement of Comprehensive Income”. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets and liabilities at fair value through the statement of comprehensive income.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Commission’s accounting policies. The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in note 4.

b. New and revised standards that are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017

Disclosure Initiative (Amendments to IAS 7)

The amendments to IAS 7 ‘Statement of cashflows, effective 1 January 2017 requires the Commission to provide disclosures about the changes in liabilities from financing activities. The Commission categorises those changes into changes arising from cash flows and non-cash changes with further sub-categories as required by IAS 7.

These amendments do not have a significant impact on these financial statements and therefore disclosures have not been made.

c. Standards, amendments and interpretations to existing standards that are not yet effective and have not been adopted early by the Commission

At the date of authorisation of these financial statements, certain new standards, and amendments to existing standards have been published by the IASB that are not yet effective, and have not been adopted early by the Commission. Information on those expected to be relevant to the Commission’s financial statements is provided below.

Management anticipates that all relevant pronouncements will be adopted in the Commission’s accounting policies for the first period beginning after the effective date of the pronouncement. New standards, interpretations and amendments not either adopted or listed below are not expected to have a material impact on the Commission’s financial statements.

IFRS 9 ‘Financial Instruments’

The new standard for financial instruments (IFRS 9) introduces extensive changes to IAS 39’s guidance on the classification and measurement of financial assets and introduces a new ‘expected credit loss’ model for the impairment of financial assets. IFRS 9 also provides new guidance on the application of hedge effectiveness.

Management has identified the following areas that are expected to be most impacted by the application of IFRS 9:

- » The classification and measurement of the Commission’s financial assets. Management holds most financial assets to hold and collect the associated cash flows and is currently assessing the underlying types of cash flows to classify financial assets correctly. Management expects the majority of held-to-maturity (HTM) investments to continue to be accounted for at amortised cost. However, a number of available-for-sale (AFS) investments and financial assets are likely to be measured at fair value through profit or loss as the cash flows are not solely payments of principal and interest.
- » The impairment of financial assets applying the expected credit loss model. This will apply to the Commission’s trade receivables and investments in debt-type assets currently classified as HTM or AFS (unless classified as at fair value through profit or loss). For contract assets arising from IFRS 15 and trade receivables, the Commission applies a simplified model of recognizing lifetime expected credit losses as these items do not have a significant financing component.

- » The measurement of equity investments at cost less impairment. All such investments will instead be measured at fair value with changes in fair value presented either in profit or loss in other comprehensive income. To present changes in other comprehensive income requires making an irrevocable designation on initial recognition or at the date of transition to the new Standard. Currently, the Commission is not intending to elect to present changes in the equity investment in other comprehensive income but will account for its equity investments at fair value through profit or loss.
- » The recognition of gains and losses arising from the Commission's own credit risk. If the Commission continues to elect the fair value option for certain financial liabilities fair value movements from changes in the Commission's own credit risk will be presented in other comprehensive income rather than profit or loss.

IFRS 16 'Leases'

IFRS 16 will replace IAS 17 and three related Interpretations. It completes the IASB's long-running project to overhaul lease accounting. Leases will be recorded on the statement of financial position in the form of a right-of-use asset and a lease liability.

IFRS 16 is effective from periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019. Management is yet to fully assess the impact of the Standard and therefore is unable to provide quantified information. However, in order to determine the impact the Commission are in the process of:

- » performing a full review of all agreements to assess whether any additional contracts will now become a lease under IFRS 16's new definition
- » deciding which transitional provision to adopt; either full retrospective application or partial retrospective application (which means comparatives do not need to be restated). The partial application method also provides optional relief from reassessing whether contracts in place are, or contain, a lease, as well as other reliefs. Deciding which of these practical expedients to adopt is important as they are one-off choices

- » assessing any current disclosures for finance leases and operating leases as these are likely to form the basis of the amounts to be capitalised and become right-of-use assets
- » determining which optional accounting simplifications apply to their lease portfolio and if they are going to use these exemptions
- » assessing the additional disclosures that will be required.

(d) Fee income

Licensing fee income is recognised upon issue of a licence. Registration fee income is recognised once securities are registered. Authorisation fee income on a takeover or merger transactions is recognised when the transaction is duly authorised. The LuSE trade commission is credited to the statement of comprehensive income on an accrual basis.

(e) Interest

Interest income is recognised on an accrual basis.

(f) Motor vehicles, furniture and equipment

Motor vehicles, furniture and equipment are stated at historical cost less depreciation. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Commission and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the statement of comprehensive income during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Increases in the carrying amount arising on revaluation of property, plant and equipment are credited to the revaluation surplus in the accumulated fund. Decreases that offset previous increases of the same asset are charged against fair value reserves directly in accumulated fund; all other decreases are charged to the statement of comprehensive income.

Each year, the difference between depreciation based on the revalued carrying amount of the asset charged to the statement of comprehensive income and depreciation based on the asset's original cost is transferred from the revaluation surplus to the accumulated fund.

Depreciation is calculated to write down the assets to residual amounts on a straight-line basis over the expected useful lives of the assets concerned. The principal annual rates used for this purpose, which are consistent with those of the previous year, are: -

Motor vehicles	25
Office equipment	20
Computer hardware	33 1/3
Office furniture	25

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its recoverable amount.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount. These are included in the statement of comprehensive income in the other operating income. When revalued assets are sold, the amounts included in the revaluation surplus relating to these assets are transferred to retained earnings.

(g) Leased assets

Where property, plant and equipment are financed by leasing agreements which give rights approximating to ownership (finance leases), the assets are treated as if they had been purchased and the capital element of the leasing commitments is shown as obligations under finance leases. The lease rentals are treated as consisting of capital and interest; the capital element is applied to reduce the outstanding obligations and the interest element is charged to the profit and loss account over the period of the lease so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest in the remaining balance of the liability under the lease agreement for each accounting period. All other leases are operating leases and the annual rentals are charged to the profit and loss account on a straight-line basis over the lease term.

Depreciation on the relevant assets is charged to the profit and loss account over their useful lives.

(h) Lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognised in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. The Commission during the period under review had no running lease.

(i) Financial assets

The Commission classifies its investments into the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, trade and other receivables, held-to-maturity financial assets and available-for-sale financial assets. The classification depends on the purpose for which the investments were acquired.

Management determines the classification of its investments at initial recognition and re-evaluate this at every reporting date.

(i) Financial assets at fair value through income

This category has two sub-categories: financial assets held for trading and those designated at fair value through profit or loss at inception.

A financial asset is classified into the 'financial assets at fair value through income' category at inception if acquired principally for the purpose of selling in the short term, if it forms part of a portfolio of financial assets in which there is evidence of short term profit taking, or if so designated by management.

Financial assets designated as at fair value through profit or loss at inception are those that are:

- held in internal funds to match investment contracts liabilities that are linked to the changes in fair value of these assets.

The designation of these assets to be at fair value through profit or loss eliminates or significantly reduces a measurement or recognition inconsistency that would otherwise arise from measuring assets or liabilities or recognising the gains and losses on them on different bases;

- managed and whose performance is evaluated on a fair value basis. Assets that are part of these portfolios are designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss.

(ii) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market other than those that the Commission intends to sell in the short term or that it has designated as at fair value through income or available for sale. Trade and other receivables are recognised at fair value, less provision for impairment. A provision for impairment of Trade and other receivables is established when there is objective evidence that the Commission will not be able to collect all amounts due according to their original terms

(iii) Held-to-maturity financial assets

Held-to-maturity financial assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturities other than those that meet the definition of trade and other receivables that the Commission's management has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. These assets are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. A provision for impairment is established when there is objective evidence that the Commission will not be able to collect all amounts due according to their original terms.

(iv) Available-for-sale financial assets

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are either designated in this category or not classified in any of the other categories.

Financial assets are derecognised when the rights to receive cash flows from them have expired or where they have been transferred and the Commission has also transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

Available-for-sale financial assets and financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are subsequently carried at fair value. Held-to-maturity financial assets are carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method. Realised and unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the 'financial assets at fair value through profit or loss' category are included in the statement of comprehensive income in the period in which they arise. Unrealised gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of non-monetary securities classified as available for sale are recognised in equity. When securities classified as available for sale are sold or impaired, the accumulated fair value adjustments are included in the statement of comprehensive income as net realised gains or losses on financial assets.

Interest on available-for-sale securities calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

The fair values of quoted investments are based on current bid prices. If the market for a financial asset is not active, the Commission establishes fair value by using valuation techniques.

(j) Impairment of assets

(i) Financial assets carried at amortised cost

The Commission assesses at each reporting date whether there is objective evidence that a financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or group of financial assets is impaired and impairment losses are incurred only if there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that have occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (a 'loss event') and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated. Objective evidence that a financial asset or group of assets is impaired includes observable data that comes to the attention of the Commission about the following events:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or debtor;
- a breach of contract, such as a default or delinquency in payments;
- it becoming probable that the issuer or debtor will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation; or
- observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flow from a group of financial assets since the initial recognition of those assets, although the decrease cannot yet be identified with the individual financial assets in the Commission, including:
 - Adverse changes in the payment status of issuers or debtors in the Commission; or
 - National or local economic conditions that correlate with defaults on the assets in the Commission.

The Commission first assesses whether objective evidence of impairment exists individually for financial assets that are individually significant. If the Commission determines that no objective evidence of impairment exists for an individually assessed financial asset, whether significant or not, it includes the asset in a group of financial assets with similar credit risk characteristics and collectively assesses them for impairment. Assets that are individually assessed for impairment and for which an impairment loss is or continues to be recognised are not included in a collective assessment of impairment.

If there is objective evidence that an impairment loss has been incurred on assets carried at amortised cost, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows (excluding future credit losses that have been incurred) discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. The carrying amount of the asset is reduced through the use of an allowance account, and the amount of the loss is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income. If a held-to-maturity investment or a loan has a variable interest rate, the discount rate for measuring any impairment loss is the current effective interest rate determined under

(i) Financial assets carried at amortised cost

If in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed by adjusting the allowance account. The amount of the reversal is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

(ii) Financial assets carried at fair value

The Commission assesses at each reporting date whether there is objective evidence that an available-for-sale financial asset is impaired. If any such evidence exists for available-for-sale financial assets, the cumulative loss – measured as the difference between the acquisition cost and current fair value, less any impairment loss on the financial asset previously recognised in profit or loss – is removed from equity and recognised in the statement of comprehensive income. Impairment losses recognised in the statement of comprehensive income on equity instruments are not subsequently reversed. The impairment loss is reversed through the statement of comprehensive income, if in a subsequent period the fair value of a debt instrument classified as available for sale increases and the increase can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised in profit or loss.

(iii) Impairment of other non-financial assets

Assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are tested annually for impairment. Assets that are subject to amortisation are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognised for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units).

(k) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments and balances held with banks. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand are included as a component of cash and cash equivalents.

(l) Foreign currencies

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Commission operates (the 'functional currency'). The financial statements are presented in Zambian Kwacha, which is the Commission's presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the rates of exchange prevailing at the date of transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

(m) Employee benefits

(i) Provision for retirement benefits

The Commission has a plan with National Pension Commission Authority (NAPSA) where the Commission pays an amount equal to the employee's contributions. Employees contribute 5% of their gross earnings up to a ceiling set annually.

(ii) Provisions for leave pay and long service bonus

Provisions for leave pay are made in respect of all staff. In addition, all employees are entitled to gratuity and a provision is made thereon.

(n) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are stated at cost.

4. Critical accounting estimates and judgements

The Commission makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

In the process of applying Commission's accounting policies, management has made judgements in determining:

- (a) the classification of financial assets;
- (b) whether assets are impaired;
- (c) estimation of provision and accruals; and
- (d) recoverability of trade and other receivables.

5. Management of financial risk

5.1 Financial risk

The Commission is exposed to a range of financial risks through its financial assets. The most important component of this financial risk is credit risk. These risks arise from open positions in the interest rate and business environments, all of which are exposed to general and specific market movements. The Commission manages these positions with a framework that has been developed to monitor its customers and return on its investments.

5.1.1 Credit risk

The Commission has exposure to credit risk, which is the risk that a counterparty will be unable to pay amounts in full when due. Key area where the Commission is exposed to credit risk is trade and other receivables and investments.

The Commission structures the levels of credit risk it accepts by placing limits on its exposure to the level of credit given to or investment made in a single entity.

5.1.2 Foreign currency risk

Most of the transactions for the Commission are carried out in Zambian Kwacha. The exposure to foreign currency risk is low.

5.1.3 Capital management

The Commission's objective when managing capital is to safeguard the Commission's ability to continue as a going concern so that it can continue to provide benefits to stakeholders.

The Commission's capital is supported by grants from the Government of the Republic of Zambia (GRZ) and its internally generated fees.

14. Financial assets and liabilities

Financial assets

The Commission’s principal financial assets are investments, prepayments, bank balances and cash. The Commission maintains its bank accounts with major banks in Zambia of high credit standing. Prepayments are stated at their nominal value reduced by appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amounts.

Financial liabilities

The Commission’s financial liabilities are creditors and accruals. Financial liabilities are classified according to the substance of the contractual arrangements entered into, and are stated at their nominal value.

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date was: -

Classes of financial assets

	Carrying amount
	31 December 2017 ZMW	31 December 2016 ZMW
Short term deposit	7,000,000	10,500,000
Trade and other receivables	2,839,941	2,845,248
Cash and cash equivalents	2,848,986	2,647,155
	12,688,927	15,992,403

The credit risk for cash and cash equivalents and short-term deposits is considered negligible, since the counterparts are reputable banks with high quality external credit ratings.

The credit risk for investments is considered to be low, since the Fund Manager is a reputable group.

In respect of trade and other receivables, the

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Commission if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from trade receivables and other receivables.

In order to manage this risk the Commission has a defined credit policy which is documented and forms the basis of all credit decisions. The Commission also makes allowance for impairment against non-performing accounts, where recovery is doubtful.

Commission is not exposed to any significant credit risk exposure to any single counterparty or any group of counterparties having similar characteristics. Based on historical information about default rates, management considers the credit quality of trade receivables that are not past due or impaired to be good.

The aged analysis of trade receivables which were not impaired at the reporting date are as follows:-

	2017 ZMW	2016 ZMW
Days
0 – 30	386,220	35,910
31 -60	48,106	18,031
61 – 90	47,572	61,917
Over 90	-	68,850
	481,898	184,708

(b) Interest rate risk

The Commission is exposed to interest rate risk to the extent of the balance of any loans and other borrowings taken and outstanding.

During the period under review, the commission was not subject to any interest rate risks as it had no any loans, and other borrowings taken and outstanding (2016: +/- 1%). These changes are considered to be reasonably possible based on observation of current market conditions. The calculations are based on a change in the average market interest rate for each period, and the financial instruments held at each reporting date that are sensitive to changes in interest rates. All other variables are held constant.

(c). Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Commission will be unable to meet its obligations as they fall due. The contractual maturities of financial liabilities as at 31 December 2017 is summarised below:

At 31 December 2017:

	Within 6 Months ZMW	Within 6 to 12 Months ZMW	1 to 5 Years ZMW
Non – derivative Financial liabilities
Trade and other payables	1,757,291	865,742	1,401,187

At 31 December 2016:

	Within 6 Months ZMW	Within 6 to 12 Months ZMW	1 to 5 Years ZMW
Non – derivative Financial liabilities
Trade and other payables	2,765,745	2,102,782	-
Totals	2,765,745	2,102,782	-

The above amounts reflect the contractual undiscounted cash flows, which may differ to the carrying values of the liabilities at the reporting date.

(d) Cash flow risk

In the opinion of the directors, the risk that future cash flows may not be sufficient to meet its working capital requirements is medium.

(e) Fair value

The carrying amounts of financial assets and liabilities are representative of the Commission's position as of 31 December 2017 and are in the opinion of the directors not significantly different from their respective fair values due to generally short periods to maturity dates.

Interest-bearing loans and borrowings

Fair value is calculated based on expected future principal and interest cash flows.

Trade and other receivables/payables

For receivables/payables the carrying amount is deemed to reflect the fair value.
